BENEFITING THE STURGE-WEBER CENTER AT KENNEDY KRIEGER INSTITUTE

Don't miss out on being a part of Oktoberfest at YMCA Camp Letts in Edgewater, MD. This year's event, hosted by Celebrate Hope Foundation, will provide Dr. Anne Comi and her research team at Kennedy Krieger Institute with crucial funds for continued work on finding a cure for Sturge-Weber Syndrome and bettering the lives of those living with this rare disease.

The Celebrate Hope Foundation was started by the local Davidsonville Family, Ida & Ed Heck, when their youngest child was born with this rare disease, Sturge-Weber Syndrome. SWS is caused by blood vessel abnormalities in the brain, skin, and eyes, causing countless health complications, not all of which are known or understood, but include seizures and glaucoma. The seizures are unpredictable and vary in length and severity, and can lead to strokes, mental retardation, developmental delays, learning disabilities, migraines, vision impairment, paralysis, and even death.

The Sturge-Weber Center at Kennedy Krieger Institute is a state-of-the-art medical facility, devoted to the diagnosis, research, and treatment of SWS. In May of 2013, the center and its colleagues discovered the cause of this debilitating disease. Since this discovery, research has been underway to find the cure. We want to stay a big part of this research and will provide funds for their most recent projects.

Your involvement is vital to the success of this event!!! When you donate to our event, your business name will be listed on our celebratehopefoundation.org website and in the Oktoberfest event program.
